The stamp is partially cut off on the left and right sides. In the top left corner, there is a small white label with the text "A67 88". The page contains a table with several empty boxes for data entry. The background of the page is a light, textured color, possibly paper or a scan of a document.

An aerial photograph of a city grid, likely Athens, Greece, showing a dense arrangement of rectangular blocks. A prominent red diagonal stamp is overlaid across the image, containing the Greek text 'ΕΙΤΑΙ ΚΑΤΟΠΙΝ ΑΙΤΗΜΑΤΟΣ ΧΟΡΗΓΕΙΤΑΙ ΚΑΤΟΠΙΝ ΑΙΤΗΜΑΤΟΣ' (It is given according to the request, it is given according to the request). The stamp is repeated twice, once from the top-left to the bottom-right and once from the bottom-left to the top-right. The photograph shows various street layouts, including a large triangular area on the left and a grid of rectangular blocks on the right. Some blocks are shaded in dark grey, possibly indicating specific areas of interest or development. The overall image has a grainy, high-contrast appearance typical of older aerial photography.
